HEED 'CALLS TO ACTION!'

WINNING OFTEN HINGES ONE VOTE!

BY NANCY STARCZYK, PRESIDENT, AND DAVID R. WALKER SOUTHLAND REGIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS®

For lack of a single vote, homeowners may soon receive a higher property tax bill.

As a majority passage bill, that's all Senate Bill 231 needed to make it off the floor of the California State Assembly — one deciding vote.

It now sits on the Governor's desk waiting to be signed.

That's why it's imperative that Realtors and homeowners heed action alerts, the messages organizations distribute to mobilize people, texts or emails that urge them to take action, which often can influence public policy.

The Realtor community uses "Red Alerts" and "Calls to Action" to enable owners and real estate professionals — indeed, anyone who cares about private property rights — to zero in on the housing-related issues that need urgent, immediate attention.

And, with more than 130 measures in the Legislature addressing the statewide housing affordability crisis, all Californians — but particularly homeowners and Realtors — need to pay special attention, to make their voices heard. Or, accept and regret unexpected and potentially costly outcomes.

Alerts succeed when recipients act immediately.

Typically the organization issuing the alert provides details on the proposed bill, what their position is, and why they believe it is good or bad.

Dante Acosta, R-38th State Assembly District

Responding is easy and can be done with a couple of clicks on a mouse or a single phone call.

A strong yet ultimately unheeded response to a statewide Red Alert was one reason behind passage of SB 231, which opens the door to higher property taxes without a public vote.

Assemblyman Dante Acosta, R-38th District, which spans most of the Santa Clarita Valley and the northern San Fernando Valley, was the lone lawmaker from the local delegation to oppose SB 231. Had one other local lawmaker rejected the measure, it may well have been defeated.

Partly because of a nationwide outpouring, the National Association of Realtors' most recent Call to Action achieved a small success.

President Donald Trump on Sept. 8 signed legislation which extends the National Flood Insurance Program for three months.

Another measure, H.R. 2874, looks to reauthorize the program for five years, stabilize its financial position, and make numerous and significant improvements to current law.

The passage of H.R. 2874 may need Realtor help and mobilization again if the reauthorization is not signed by Dec 8.

Will your voice be heard the next time you receive an alert from an organization?

Whether it's a Red Alert or Call to Action, mobilization is vital.

When constituents speak, lawmakers listen, especially if there is a flood of opinion.

Never underestimate the power of one. Each voice, each vote matters!

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

AUGUST BRINGS HOME, CONDO SALES SPIKE

BY NANCY STARCZYK, PRESIDENT, AND DAVID R. WALKER SOUTHLAND REGIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS® In a pattern repeated in many communities statewide, closed escrows during August of existing homes and condominiums in the San Fernando Valley posted hefty increases compared to a year ago with homes changing owners up 15.8 percent and condominium sales rising 30.3 percent, reported Wednesday.

A total of 631 single-family homes closed escrow last month, up 86 transactions from August 2016 and 145 transactions or 29.8 percent higher than the July tally. That was the highest number of closed escrows for any month since October 2012.

Similarly, Realtors helped close escrow on 262 condominium sales during August, up 61 transactions or 30.3 percent over the prior year and 72 sales or 37.9 percent ahead of this July.

"Not surprisingly, given today's rising resale prices, homes priced from $450,000 to $800,000 saw the heaviest activity, though higher price ranges also saw more activity than a year ago," said Nancy Starczyk, president of the 9,800-member Southland Regional Association of Realtors.

"Fluctuations in interest rates may have pushed some buyers off the fence," Starczyk said, "though I believe few buyers are controlled by interest rates. Those in a position to buy know rates may rise, inventory is tight, and that economists predict today's gradual price increases will continue for the next two years, making quick action wise."

The 631 homes that closed escrow in August had a median price of $650,000. That was 4.0 percent higher than a year ago, but 3.2 percent below the record high of $671,500 set this March. The home median price — meaning half the sales were lower and half higher — has been above $600,000 every month this year, a feat unmatched since 2007, which was the peak of last decade's housing boom.

Condominiums posted singledigit increases compared to a year ago August. The condominium median price of $411,500 was up 6.9 percent. August was the fourth consecutive month and the fifth so far this year to post a median price above the $400,000 benchmark.

"Too many buyers chasing too few properties listed for sale clearly are driving the increases in resale prices," said Tim Johnson, the Association's chief executive officer. "That trend likely will continue for the foreseeable future. "It's risky to speculate as to why sales spiked, what with multiple forces contributing to buyers' sense of urgency," he said. "Regardless, the local increase in sales appears consistent with what's happening statewide."

The Association reported that there were 1,372 active listings at the end of the month. That was down 18.9 percent from August 2016.

AVOIDING CONTINGENCY CONFUSION AND UNNECESSARY DISPUTES

HERB LAMBERT

There is what could be perceived as an ambiguity in the CAR Purchase Agreement centered around the buyer's right to either cancel or remove contingencies when they expire (Paragraph 14.B.(3) of the RPA). While the buyer is instructed to do one or the other, cancel the agreement or remove contingencies, the contract also states that contingencies continue to remain in effect until they are removed or when the contract is cancelled (Paragraph 14.B.(4) of the RPA). So, what happens when a buyer doesn't remove a contingency or cancel the agreement within the allotted time frame?

The seller can issue a Notice to Perform and initiate cancellation instructions if the buyer doesn't remove the specific contingency or contingencies. But if the buyer doesn't perform or sign cancellation instructions, or if the seller refuses to release the earnest money deposit, the principals would be locked into a dispute. The agents then become collateral damage, as they try to resolve the problem through negotiation or subsequent mediation and possibly, arbitration or litigation.

In addition to the contingency clauses, there is also a "good faith" clause in the Purchase Agreement. In some mediations, sellers have relied on claiming that the buyer didn't act in good faith when they failed to perform by not removing a contingency or canceling the contract. Although these mediations usually settle successfully, the outcomes as to who gets how much of the deposit in escrow is unpredictable. What is most unfortunate is that the buyer's desire to purchase a property, the seller's objective of selling the property, and the agents' earning of commissions are all delayed or destroyed.

When acting as a buyer's agent, it's important to stay on top of the contingency period timelines and to request extensions in writing when your buyer isn't ready to remove a contingency. Even if the seller doesn't agree to the extension, the buyer shows that they're acting in good faith by requesting more time.

As a listing agent, it's important to send a Notice to Perform when necessary to protect your seller's position and ability to cancel if the buyer doesn't perform. Too many escrows go on and on as time passes with no resolution. Contingencies linger with some agents even telling their buyer clients not to do anything until the seller sends a Notice to Perform. Frequently, the parties turn on each other and on their agents, too.

Communication between agents is always the key to keeping an escrow on track and resolving the issues that almost inevitably come up. Making sure Articles 1 and 9 of the Code of Ethics are being adhered to, agents should use written extensions whenever necessary as well as all the relevant forms that CAR provides us on ZipForms. Remember, it's not about who would win the arbitration or lawsuit or who is right and who is wrong – it's about conducting business in a manner to avoid unnecessary disputes, helping buyers and sellers close escrows, and yes, getting paid.

NAR Code of Ethics Article 1:

"Realtors pledge themselves to protect and promote the interests of their client."

Article 9, Standard of Practice 9-1:

"Realtors shall use reasonable care to ensure that documents pertaining to the sale of real estate are kept current through the use of written extensions or amendments."

60% of Sales Draw Multiple Offers

Nearly two-thirds of properties sold throughout California during August attracted multiple offers, the California Association of Realtors reported recently.

That was down from 62 percent a year ago with the number of offers received slightly down to 2.7 offers.

The share of properties receiving three or more offers in August was 38 percent, compared to 42 percent a year ago. The share of homes selling above asking price increased from 29 percent a year ago to 31 percent in August, while the share of properties selling below asking price fell from 41 percent to 37 percent. The remaining 32 percent sold at asking price, up from 30 percent in August 2016.

For homes that sold above asking price, the premium paid over asking price rose from 10 percent in August 2016 to 12 percent in August 2017.

The 36 percent of homes that sold below asking price sold for an average of 12 percent below asking price in August, unchanged from a year ago.

Market competitiveness increased the most in homes priced $300,000-$399,999 and $1 million to just under $2 million compared with last year, with 28 percent of properties receiving three or more offers up from 38 percent and up from 44 percent to 55 percent, respectively.

Listing prices are more in line with the market as the proportion of homes that had listing price reductions decreased from 31 percent a year ago to 23 percent in August.

Thirty-five percent of REALTORS® cited a lack of available homes for sale as their top concern, up significantly from 19 percent in August 2016.

REALTORS GIVE, VOLUNTEER TO DISASTER RELIEF

BY NANCY STARCZYK, PRESIDENT, AND DAVID R. WALKER SOUTHLAND REGIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS® Realtors nationwide donated $1.75 million to hurricane disaster relief while teams of real estate professionals, including local contingents, made the journey to help stricken homeowners clear muck from shattered, sodden residences.

The Charitable Foundation of the Southland Regional Association of Realtors, serving the San Fernando and Santa Clarita valleys, has already donated $10,000 to hurricane relief efforts, with the initial focus on Texas

"We anticipate giving another donation to the Realtor Relief Foundation, which is backed by the National Association of Realtors and has a broad reach and wide impact."

The Realtors Relief Foundation has received more than $550,000 in donations from

Realtors, has $600,000 in additional commitments from local Associations, along with an NAR contribution of $600,000 that was approved by NAR's

Leadership Team to help families displaced by Hurricanes Harvey and Irma.

As a result, the Realtors Relief Foundation was able to immediately provide $1.75 million in mortgageand rental assistance to families whose homes were destroyed.

"This means thousands of people will have a roof over their head as they begin the long road to recovery," the Foundation stated.

From Sept. 11 through the 14th, Raschel Barlow, Alyson Silverman, and Stephanie Novak made the journey from Los AngelesW to Sealy, Texas.

They were among a contingent of 4,000 real estate professionals associated with Keller Williams

International who contributed 60,000 hours to stricken owners.

Hundreds of homes were clean out in Sealy and Katy, Texas, alone, she said. The group distributed 10,000 pounds of food and assembled 5,000 clean-up kits.

"The entire experience was humbling, sobering, and hard work," Barlow said. "The energy of 4,000 agents coming together with one singular purpose of helping communities in need was profound and priceless."

She said two fundamentals make up the core of her company's approach — service and giving back. "This is what fuels us to do the very best for our clients," Barlow said, "and the communities where we live and work."

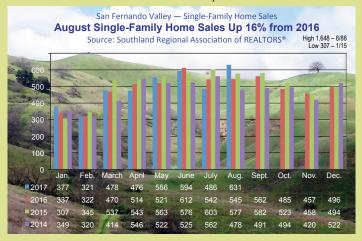

in the wake of Hurricane Harvey.

"We expanded that effort after Hurricane Irma cut a swath of destruction through the Caribbean and Florida," said Nancy Starczyk, president of the Association.

Local Home Sales Surge During August

Preliminary statistics from the Southland Regional Association of Realtors indicated that closed escrows during August of existing single-family homes in the San Fernando Valley rose 15.8 percent compared to a year ago and 29.8 percent higher than this July.

The increase reflects activity initiated earlier this summer even as resale prices posted single-digit increases compared to August 2016. The median price of homes that closed escrow in August came in at $650,000, up 4.0 percent, while condominiums that changed owners posted a 6.9 percent increase in the median price, meaning half sold for more and half for less. The condo median was $411,500. The full report will be available soon!

Homebuyer Grants Available for Recent College Graduates

Grants of $2,500 will be awarded to qualifying first-time homebuyers who are recent college graduates as part of the Southland Regional Association of Realtors' Charitable Foundation's 2017 Homebuyer Grant Program.

The grants are offered in partnership with the California Association of Realtors' Housing Affordability Fund. Each grant can be used to defray closing costs in the purchase of a home using the services of a member of the Southland Regional Association of Realtors.

SRAR and C.A.R. each year offer multiple grants to qualified prospective homebuyers who meet specific qualifications.

For more details, go to www.srar.com/grants. There are a limited number of grants, which will be awarded to applicants on a first-come, first-serve basis.

SOME MAKE OWNERS HAPPY

SOME REMODEL PROJECTS RECOUP MONEY SPENT

BY NANCY STARCZYK, PRESIDENT, AND DAVID R. WALKER SOUTHLAND REGIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS®

Even in today's intense market, where homes often attract multiple offers and sell at skyhigh prices, select remodels and focused updates can deliver enormous benefit for sellers.

Homeowners who take on remodeling projects — a $350 billion annual industry — gain not only equity and increase the resale value in their home, they also are likely to find increased satisfaction and enjoyment.

A new report reveals the top remodeling projects along with the value — financial and emotional — that specific projects offer

For example, after completing a remodeling project, 75 percent of owners surveyed said they had a greater desire to be in their home, 65 percent said they found increased enjoyment in their home, and 77 percent felt a major sense of accomplishment when thinking of their completed project.

The 2017 Remodeling Impact Report, available at Realtor.org, found that 56 percent of owners felt happy when they saw their completed projects, and 39 percent said they felt satisfied.

"Realtors understand which remodeling projects and home upgrades bring the most value to homeowners, whether they are remodeling with the hope of impressing potential buyers, bringing in higher offers, or gaining more equity in their home," said William E. Brown, president of the National Association of Realtors.

"Realtors also understand that many of these projects are undertaken solely to get more enjoyment from spending time at home. No matter the objectives, Realtors have unique and invaluable insights into how renovations and remodeling will bring the most benefit to homeowners."

• Interior projects. For owners looking to sell their home, Realtors named three projects that would be most likely to entice buyers — a complete kitchen renovation and kitchen upgrade, a bathroom remodel, and new wood flooring.

Which interior project is most likely to yield the highest financial return?

"A home's exterior is its first impression to potential buyers, so any project that improves curb appeal will yield plenty of bang for the buck," Brown said.

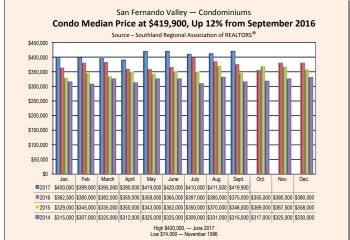

• Satisfaction from projects. Which projects offer the most enjoyment?

Projects at the top of the list included both interior and exterior projects in all price ranges, such as a new master/ owner's suite, with an estimated cost of $125,000 for a full makeover, and new front doors, with an estimated cost of $2,000.

Prices Rise as Peak Buying Season Fades

Prices of existing homes and condominiums sold in the San Fernando Valley during September hovered at or below record levels while sales fell off peak summer activity, the Southland Regional Association of Realtors will report this week.

Home prices rose 6.5 percent and the condominium median price increased 12.0 percent from a year ago. Home and condo sales dropped 3.6 percent and 4.4 percent to 542 and 195 closed escrows, respectively. The median price of homes sold was $660,000; condominiums posted a $419,900 median price. sellers might recoup only 91 percent

• Exterior projects. New roofing will recover 109 percent of costs upon resale, more than any other project in the report. New roofing was also named the exterior project that most appeals to buyers, followed by new vinyl windows, a new garage door and new vinyl siding.

Exterior projects are just as, if not more, important than interior projects when it comes time to sell.

Santa Clarita City Councilmember Marsha McLean, third from left, offered an update recently on city projects at a recent meeting of the Southland Regional Association of Realtors. Marty Kovacs, right, the 2017 chairman of the Santa Clarita Division Council, and M. Dean Vincent, the Council's chairman-elect, thanked McLean along with Nancy Starczyk, left, president of the Association.

McLean joined the Santa Clarita City Council in 2002, served as mayor in 2007, 2011 and 2015. She brings her passion for small business, regional transportation, the environment and local government to her work as a councilmember.

Why Marketing Matters

In today's market, if you want to simply put a listing on the MLS it may sell guickly. The guestion is, for how much?

We at Park Regency Realty believe that if you market your client's listing properly you can attract more buyers and sell it for top dollar. That's why last year alone, we produced nearly 2 million marketing materials at little or no cost to our agents and have the capability of designing and producing the orders within a few hours. The end result is numbers don't lie and Park Regency Realty is consistently the #1 listings sold office in the San Fernando Valley. Come experience The Park Regency Difference.
