California Outpaces Nation on Jobless Claims

The Labor Department reported recently that U.S. jobless claims fell slightly to 793,000, pointing to a still-elevated number of layoffs.

Prior to the pandemic, weekly applications for jobless aid never topped 700,000, even during the Great Recession.

Yet while the pace of new unemployment claims is dropping nationwide, unemployment claims in California are rising. While California workers are 12 percent of the nation's labor force, the state accounts for 16.1 percent of all jobless claims filed nationwide.

Economists found that the bulk of new jobless claims recorded in late 2020 were from individuals who had already been laid off earlier in the pandemic. In California, 77 percent of all new benefit claims filed in the last week of November were "additional claims" triggered by a repeat pandemic layoff.

The high rate of additional claims suggests employment markets, particularly in the food services and accommodation industries, remain unstable.

The House of Representatives Budget Committee was on track to pass a final bill based on President Joe Biden's $1.9 trillion stimulus package proposal. The House bill as it stood Feb. 24 would provide direct payments worth up to $1,400 per person for individuals earning less than $75,000 per year. The bill would also increase the federal weekly unemployment boost from $300 to $400 through August 29.

The bill was expected to pass the House soon, probably on a partyline vote, though it likely will face obstacles in the Senate.

REALTOR STUDY FINDS WIDE OWNERSHIP, WEALTH DISPARITIES

SOUTHLAND REGIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS BY DIANE SYDELL, PRESIDENT, AND DAVID WALKER

A statewide study found that housing affordability for Black California households is half that of white households, which illustrates persistent, wide disparities in homeownership and wealth.

Less than half of Black households earned the minimum income needed to purchase a home as compared to whites, which defines the homeownership gap and wealth disparity for people of color, women, people with disabilities, indigenous people and members of the LGBTQ community.

The percentage of Black homebuyers who could afford to purchase a median-priced, existing single-family home in California in 2020 was 19 percent, compared to 38 percent for white households.

Housing affordability was similarly low for Latinx households, with 20 percent earning the minimum income needed to purchase a median-priced home.

Housing was most affordable for Asians, with 43 percent of homebuyers who could afford the median-priced home in 2020, according to the California Association of Realtors' Housing Affordability Index.

And, according to the Census Bureau's American Community Survey, the 2019 homeownership rate in California was 63.2 percent for Asians, 44.1 percent for Latinx and 36.8 percent for Blacks.

"The wide affordability gap in California between whites and people of color demonstrates the legacy of systemic racism in housing, which has created inequities in homeownership rates across these communities," said C.A.R. President Dave Walsh. "Closing the homeownership gap is essential to closing the generational wealth gap in our country, and that's why C.A.R. is committed to addressing barriers and disparities to make equity in housing and access to affordable homes a reality for all people."

Among legislative actions C.A.R. is pursuing to address housing discrimination is introduction of several Fair Housing and Equity bills including:

- Requiring California real estate professionals to take implicit bias training;
- Removing discriminatory language in property records;
- Prohibiting discrimination against people living in affordable housing;

• Repealing Article 34 of the California Constitution, which imposed a discriminatory limitation on publicly funded, low-income rental housing projects;

• Boosting housing construction so homeownership is accessible to all.

A minimum annual income of $122,800 was needed to qualify for the purchase of a $659,380 statewide median-priced, existing single-family home in 2020.

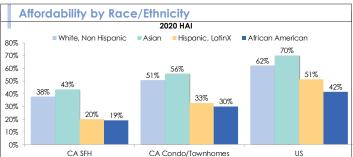

The monthly payment, including taxes and insurance on a 30-year, fixed-rate loan, would be $3,070, assuming a 20 percent down payment and an interest rate of 3.30 percent.

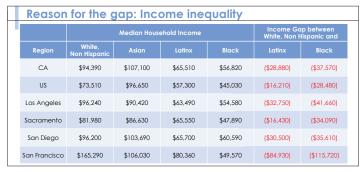

The 2020 California median income — meaning half earned more and half earned less — for whites was $94,390, $107,100 for Asians, $65,510 for Latinx and $56,820 for Blacks.

Compared with California, 42 percent of the nation's Black households could afford to purchase a $299,900 median-priced home in 2020, which required a minimum annual income of $55,600 to make monthly payments of $1,390, while 62 percent of white households could afford the same home.

The affordability gap is especially stark in expensive California counties like San Francisco, where a median-priced home of $1,650,000 was only affordable for 8 percent of Black households, 15 percent of Latinx households and 22 percent of Asian households compared to 35 percent of white households.

LOW RATES FUEL BUYER DEMAND, SURGE IN SALES

Interest rates hovering near historically low levels fueled unseasonably strong home resale activity during January, pushing sales and prices higher even as homes listed for sale fell to a record low, the Southland Regional Association of Realtors reported Thursday.

Not once since the Association started keeping the statistic in 1986 has the local inventory of homes and condominiums for sale fallen below the 700 unit benchmark.

The 662 active listings reported in January were down 15.9 percent from a year ago and represented a mere 1.2-month supply at the current pace of sales.

"To give Valley buyers an ample supply to choose from while also keeping prices in check, the inventory needs to be in the thousands of listings," said Diane Sydell, the 2021 president of the Southland Regional Association of Realtors, noting that the record high listing total was 14,976 in July 1992.

"Heavy buyer demand combined with low interest rates got us out of the pandemic rut," she said. "Let's hope listings increase with the approach of Spring."

Even with the tight supply, Realtors assisted the close of escrow in 409 single-family homes and 148 condominiums during January, which was respectively a 25.5 percent and 8.0 percent increase from the prior year. The 409 home sales total was the highest in a January since January 2011.

"The extremely limited supply and heavy demand supercharged competition over most listings," said Tim Johnson, the Association's chief executive officer. "Not surprisingly, even with all the safety protocols imposed by the pandemic, buyer competition translated into fast sales generally less than a month — and rising resale prices."

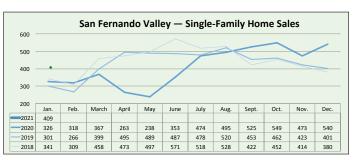

The median price of homes that changed owners last month came in at $835,000, up 12.8 percent over the prior January. The San Fernando Valley median price — meaning half were higher and half the sales were lower priced — broke through the $800,000 benchmark in July as sales took off once Realtors and their clients adapted to rules designed to keep clients healthy.

The median has stayed there ever since, setting a record high of $852,000 in August. The condominium record high of $500,000 came in December. The 148 condos that closed escrow in January had a median price of $485,000, up 15.5 percent from a year ago, yet off 3.0 percent from December's high.

Pending escrows—a measure of future sales activity—suggest the local market will stay robust in the months ahead. At the end of January there were 606 open escrows pending, a number that was 11.8 percent higher than a year ago.

Motivated buyers realize the low interest rates give them added buying power while the pandemic, according to some studies, has prodded renters to go house hunting for a larger residence or because they are untethered to a workplace or a long commute.

The Association's Income-to-Loan Guide calculated the minimum income needed to buy a median-price home of $835,000, assuming a 20 percent downpayment, came in 4.3 percent higher than a year ago at $154,309. That was based on a 2.74 percent rate on a $668,000 loan.

The total monthly housing payment came to $3,858, with $2,724 to the loan principal and interest, $870 for the monthly pro-rated property tax, and $264 for the pro-rated home insurance premium.

The income needed to qualify for a loan to buy the median price condominium was $89,628.

Santa Clarita Valley

January Home, Condo Sales Soar

2021 jumped off to a strong start with home and condominium sales during January in the Santa Clarita Valley up dramatically over a year ago, which continued an upswing started in the midst of the global pandemic, the Southland Regional Association of Realtors reported Thursday.

The 198 homes that changed owners was the highest total for the month since 2004 and was 67.8 percent higher than the January 2020 tally. Similarly, condo sales last month rose 38.3 percent above the prior year with 74 units changing owners, which was the highest for the month since 2006.

"The market is humming even as the number of new open escrows slows due to the dire shortage of inventory," said Nicole Stinson, the 2021 chair of the Santa Clarita Division of SRAR. "Buyers are plentiful, eager to capture historically low interest rates. But buyers also are hungry for inventory."

Combined residential sales—home and condos—were nearly 60 percent higher than a year ago even as the inventory plunged 35.1 percent to a mere 200 active listings, which was up slightly from the record low of 193 listings set in December. The January single-family home median price—meaning half were higher and half lower—of $690,000 was up 12.0 percent from January 2020, while the $436,000 median for condos rose 12.1 percent.

FOUR REASONS VHY HOMEOWNERS REFINANCE A LOAN

Here are four common reasons offered by Freddie Mac on why homeowners decide to refinance and what they should consider before starting the process

1 Lower the monthly mortgage payment-Even the slightest difference in the mortgage interest rate can impact the monthly payment. The following example shows the dollar amount difference when refinancing a $200,000 outstanding loan balance into a 30-year fixed-rate mortgage at various rates.

Mortgage Rate Monthly P & I Payment

3.15%.								.$859
3.29%.								.$875
3.36%.								.$883
3.65%.								.$915
3.75%.								.$926

Refinancing to a lower interest rate, typically means the monthly payment will likely shrink. Any savings can be put toward other expenses or it could be applied the principal balance, which will pay off a loan sooner.

• Pay off a loan sooner—A 30-year term may have made the most financial sense when first applying for a mortgage, but financial situations change.

If the owner is earning more money, changing the term of the loan could save big. Securing a shorter-term loan, like a 15-year mortgage, will allow a homeowner to build equity Wealth! faster and own the home sooner.

• Save on total interest—The interest rate and the mortgage term, together, determine how much total interest a borrower will pay over the life of the loan. By reducing one or both of these factors, an owner could be saving a significant amount on interest in the long run.

• Switch mortgage types—With a fixed-rate mortgage, the interest rate is locked in for the life of the loan, which offers the stability of consistent monthly payments that won't increase. If the interest rate on an adjustable rate mortgage is moving upwards, it may be time to convert to a fixed-rate mortgage.

What to consider before deciding to refinance:

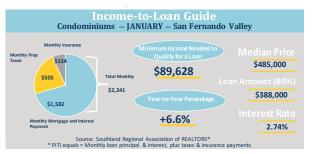

• Current interest rates—Rates have ticked up slightly in the last couple of weeks, yet they are still very low by historical standards. Interview several lenders and compare rates and terms. It may be easier to refinance with the current lender or find new lenders who offer options suited to particular financial situations.

• Cost of refinancing—The closing costs on a refinance are going to be similar to what was paid when the home was purchased. It will likely include the same services and fees, such as: loan origination fee, underwriting fees, title services, and more.

So, if a relocation is likely before these costs are recouped, then refinancing now may not make financial sense.

• Mortgage term—Refinancing to lower the interest rate can save money, but if a mortgage is nearing the end of its life, getting a new mortgage with a new term may not make financial sense. For instance, if 20 years are left on a 30-year fixed-rate mortgage and the loan is refinanced into a new 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage, the term of the loan has been extended. As a result, a borrower could actually end up paying more interest over the life of the loan.

RENTAL HELP PART OF RELIEF PACKAGE

President Joe Biden's American Rescue Plan of 2021 legislation that is likely to pass the Congress offers $1.9 trillion and an array of coronavirus relief measures championed by the National Association of Realtors.

Those benefits include: new aid for struggling state and local governments; the creation of a homeowners' assistance fund and a small-business grant program; and, a fresh round of funding for rental assistance, expanded unemployment, stimulus checks, vaccines, and testing.

"Perhaps the biggest component of this bill is state and local aid, which was left out of previous legislation," said Shannon McGahn, NAR's chief advocacy officer. "Nearly nine in ten cities expect a budget shortfall this year. No local government could really prepare for something like what we have lived through the past year, and this new assistance was needed to keep our economic recovery from suffering a relapse."

The American Rescue Plan would be the sixth major coronavirus relief package passed by Congress. The package now is before the Senate, where few changes were expected, McGahn said, with final passage and signing by the President likely by mid-March, when current unemployment benefits expire.

Specifically, the plan would provide:

- $1,400 stimulus checks to most Americans, phased out for higher earners;
   An extension through Aug. 29, 2021, to the Pandemic Unemployment Assistance program and an increase of Pandemic Unemployment Compensation from $300 to
  - $20.3 billion in new money for rental assistance, on top of the $25 billion allocated in December;
  - An extension of the eviction and foreclosure moratorium and forbearance for federally guaranteed mortgages through Sept. 30;
  - A one-year increase from $2,000 to $3,000 in the child tax credit;
  - Expanded Paid Sick and Family Leave through Sept. 30;
  - $10 billion for a Housing Assistance Fund that will allow state housing finance agencies to help homeowners with COVID-19 hardships;
  - $100 million for housing counseling services;

  - $15 billion for a new small business grant program;
    $350 billion in state and local aid;
    $130 billion for schools.

IN A LETTER TO HOUSE SPEAKER PELOSI AND REPUBLICAN MINORITY LEADER MCCARTHY. REALTORS WROTE:

The 1.4 million members of the National Association of Realtors thank you for your focus on rebuilding our economy, businesses, and families during and after this worldwide pandemic. The "American Rescue Plan Act of 2021," which is currently being considered by lawmakers via the budget reconciliation process, has Housing Stability: Due to widespread extensions of eviction moratoria, the financial solvency of many in the rental housing industry, including thousands of small "mom and pop" firms, are in jeopardy. The $19 billion in rental assistance provided will help renters meet their obligations and allow housing providers to fulfill their financial obligations and maintain safe properties for their tenants. Rental assistance that is easily accessible to qualified households will relieve renters from excessive debts, and ensure our critical rental housing stock is sustainable.

NAR also supports the $10 billion included for a Housing Assistance Fund that will allow state housing finance agencies to help homeowners with COVID-19 hardships. The funds can be used for mortgage payment assistance, utility payments, property tax assessments, and other support to prevent eviction, mortgage delinquency, default, foreclosure, or loss of utility services and will go a long way to help maintain homeownership. The additional $100 million in funding for housing counseling services will better guide renters, people experiencing homelessness, people at risk of homelessness, and homeowners through options to preserve Assistance to State and Local Communities: Across the country, communities are adapting and responding to the needs of their constituents as the pandemic alters the lives of so many Americans. According to the National League of Cities, nearly nine in ten cities expect a budget shortfall this year due to COVID-19. The $350 billion in funding will allow states to more effectively address public health risks so they can gradually and safely reopen.

SAN FERNANDO AND SANTA CLARITA VALLEY

Listed below for your reference, are the specific municipal regulations, along with the regulations for L.A. and Ventura Counties that apply in unincorporated areas or those cities without specific municipal codes. SRAR highly advises REALTORS® to check the current laws, and follow these best practices as they will help preserve our rights as REALTORS® to use temporary signs:

- 1. Only post temporary signs (directional or open house) when you have an open house.
- 2. Always observe time and placement restrictions for signage.
- 3. Always obtain a property owner's permission before placing a temporary sign on someone's property whether their property is residential or commercial.
- 4. Never place temporary signs in the medians or rights of way meaning along the streets or sidewalk and observe Americans with Disabilities Act regulations.
- 5. Decrease visual clutter by "piggy backing" off of other directional signs, placing your directional signs only when your directions divert from other directions.

Real Estate Marketing Powered for Success

After over 17 million marketing pieces printed in the past two years, we've retired our old printers here at Park Regency Realty and replaced them with two new high-capacity Canon printers. And it's not just that our new printers can print quality two-sided flyers, door hangers and even embossed pieces, it's also that an agent can request materials, and usually within hours, the completed pieces are ready to go, at little or no cost to the agent! We also employ two full-time marketing directors to ensure that our sales force has everything they need, when they need it.

Talk to Park Regency today, about your future tomorrow. Our printers are ready to roll!
